STYLIST TIP NO.1

Trench coats and dresses are all the go this season – wear them on their own with a great pair of heels, glasses and a chic beret. This version from Sunnygirl is light enough to wear in the tropics, and funky enough to wear out after dark.

THIS PAGE Katherine wears black trench with white piping $79.99 from Sunnygirl, Levante matte knee highs $8.95 and Urban Soul Berlin booties $229.95 from Myer, Kinin Emma clutch in yoghurt $157, black and silver studded beret $24.99, cream and gold chandelier earrings $14.99 from Forever New, black Polaroid sunglasses $79.95 from Myer.

STYLIST TIP NO.2

If you want to wear shorts to work, choose a loose fluid style with classic detailing and balance with a jacket and quality leather accessories.

STYLIST

The word "short" is not something you would normally associate with a work-day wardrobe, but with all the fabulous styles in store this season, it is time to brave boardroom elements. When it comes to shorts, I am afraid you have to ditch the denim cut-offs. Instead, opt for a tailored cut with classic detailing such as pleats, cuffs and buttons. Balance this look with a feminine blouse or loose-fitting jacket.
